41 Cardiff Road, Wallsend

Sold

Let's be clear, this once prestigious property needs some love and attention. Solid brick construction internally and externally, this property offers a versatile lifestyle with Art Deco appeal.

The home has four bedrooms, formal lounge and dining, kitchen and bathroom are both in original condition. Outside a single carport fronts the brick single garage and workshop. A covered outdoor area joins the house and garage and colourful gardens highlight the front yard.

This home is located on the border of Wallsend and Elmore Vale and offers easy access to both boutique shopping complexes in these suburbs. Schools, transport, childcare centres, sporting clubs and fields are all in close proximity, providing all you need in today's busy world.

Centrally located to major infrastructure including John Hunter Hospital, Newcastle University and the M1 Freeway this property lends itself to a renovation opportunity that will reap rewards in the future.
